

Our life Mission

To provide, to assist and inspire around us a life based on love.

- We live a full life, based on love and synergy. Our confidence comes from our principles, our integrity, ability to love and from continuous learning and self development. We are responsible for our actions and responses.
- Body is a sacred temple for the soul. We continuously maintain our health. We strive for healthy nutrition, adequate sleep and physical activity. We avoid consumption of hazardous materials such as alcohol, smoking or drugs.
- We seek balance and harmony. We are part of the divine and our life is part of a spiritual development process. We are willing to share our spiritual ability and knowledge with every person.
- We are responsible to update and learn in every personal and professional field of endeavor and objectively examine our sources of information. We are willing to share our knowledge with any person.
- We are an integral part of this universe and see sacredness in all. Aware of our physical and social environment, we protect the environment and love man, animals, plants and nature.
- Everyone is equal. Every person who does not hurt us, deserves our love. We approach every person with pleasantness, humility, compassion and politeness, sincerity, honesty, fairness, loyalty, openness and genuine appreciation to the sacred, unique and different in each.
- Our workplace is pleasant to be at, in the physical, spiritual and social-emotional aspects. It is a place of love, friendship, support and growth, acceptance and encouragement, creation and personal development. Our home is a place to be built from, to long for and love to come back to and is always open for friends and acquaintances.
- The Universe provides endless prosperity. Financial comfort is important for us. Money is our servant, not the other way around. We profit through decency, fairness, service and providing.
- We express love with unconditional acceptance and without judgment.
- We take any measure in creating a protected safe-haven, where one may safely connect with their own being without fear, while investigating their boundaries.
- Privacy is sacred. We maintain privacy and confidentiality of personal and medical information of every person to whom we assist.
- We orderly establish the physical, medical and mental condition of every person to whom we assist.
- We act loyal to our principles which provide us a base of self assurance and conduct without fear.
- The strength in recognizing and constantly investigating our boundaries, allows us to say "Yes" to life and enables a positive conduct.
- We continuously and with awareness, examine the limits of our expertise and operate only in the boundaries of our ability.
- Sexuality is an integral part of one's being. We work with sexuality out of respect and sacredness, completely separate from our personal sexual needs.
- Nothing is obvious!